Objectivity and a knowledge of municipal ordinances is necessary to ascertain when a variance is in the public interest, does not create an unnecessary hardship, and upholds the spirit of the ordinance from which you are granting a variance. A financial hardship is not considered a reason for granting a variance. Please define "unnecessary hardship" as it would relate to granting a variance.

This would include inability to use the land as zoned or prevention of use of the land as enjoyed by others in the same circumstances.
